NREA WRITING COMPOSITION RUBRICS

RATIONALE

Classroom teachers and students need a uniform system to guide development of a written product that may be recognized by a national organization as an exemplary composition. NREA essay readers need a consistent tool to judge the value of essays based on the same criteria.

RUBRICS

The rubrics are intended to be used as a scoring guide for all compositions.

CRITERIA

The criteria selected focus on IDEAS and CONTENT, ORGANIZATION, and CONVENTIONS as three of the traits of effective writing

GOAL

To provide NREA essay readers, classroom teachers, and students the criteria that will be used to score all essays; Grade Clusters 3-5, 6-8, and 9-12.

CUT SCORES

The cut scores for all entries to be submitted are: Grades 3-5 — 30/34
Grades 6-12 — 32/36

THE WRITING PROMPT FOR ALL GRADES FOR 2009 IS AS FOLLOWS:

Think of what is really important about your school. Think of something that you want to remember forever. Write about "How my Rural School Will Change in the Next 25 Years" so that your readers can picture in their minds what it is that makes your school special to you.

Schools should pre-screen entries according to the criteria tables and select up to five quality entries for each Grade Cluster. No more than five entries per Grade Cluster will be accepted from any one school.

FORMAT

The length of the essays shall be up to 250 words for an elementary entry, and up to 500 words for a middle/junior or senior high school entry. Entries will be judged according to the NREA Writing Composition Rubric. Each school must pre-screen entries according to the NREA Writing Composition Rubrics to determine local cut scores. Only entries that meet cut scores are eligible for the NREA Essay Contest.

A statement from the school principal must accompany the entries from each school to verify each essay is the original work of each student and was written during school time under the supervision of a teacher.

Entries will be judged by the Teacher Activities Committee of the National Rural Education Association. Entries must be typed double-spaced or written in ink on only one side of the paper. Neither the author's name nor the school name should appear on the essay itself. Paper clip a separate cover sheet to each entry which includes the following information: Do not use staples. An essay missing any of the following information will not be considered.

- (1.) Full name of student
- (2.) Address and phone number of the student
- (3.) Grade and level of student (i.e. 6th grade - middle school; 6th grade - elementary)
- (4.) Full name of school
- (5.) Address and phone number of the school
- (6.) Full name of the teacher

DEADLINE

Entries must be postmarked by May 15, 2009.
Winners will be announced July 1, 2009.
